TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

I believe that being a teacher I should be exemplary for my students to inspire them by my personality and mastery of knowledge. Through quality teaching I can disseminate true knowledge that helps to inculcate moral, psychological, religious and cultural values among them. It means by embodying values, I can radiate values among students.

TEACHING GOALS

- My aim is to further strengthen my skills as a teacher by creating a student-centered learning that fosters love for the subject.
- My ultimate goal as a teacher is to provide high-quality, individualized instruction to meet the unique needs of each student.
- I aspire to create a learning based environment that inspires my students to become autonomous learners.
