My Teaching Philosophy

'Teachers who love teaching teach children to love learning'

As an experienced and self motivated teacher , I believe that I cannot teach anybody anything; I can only make them think...

Teaching is a bilateral process. Teaching happens only when learning occurs. Teaching will be effective only when we get a satisfactory learning outcome. So the implementation of learning by learning & learning by teaching is very significant in a technologically advanced classroom atmosphere. There are many factors which affect the teaching learning process. Some major factors include individual difference, readiness to learn, language barrier, inappropriate learning atmosphere, lack of interest, outdated syllabus, and so on. A best teacher should be a guide, companion, friend and facilitator for his students. Learning can occur in any situation and under any circumstances.

A child's cognitive skill can derive ideas under any favorable situation. So instead of concentrating on a limited area of teaching strategies, a teacher should try to open his classroom atmosphere to multidimensional teaching aspects with the support of various strategies and technical support. Keep updating the teaching scenario by focusing on learner centered approach .This will create an active and effective teaching learning bond. As a teacher, I always prefer learner centered approach by designing a set of teaching goals. Start the lessons with pre-requisites and healthy rapport can be the strong foundation for an effective classroom.

My teaching goals and objectives

" If you are planning for a year, sow rice; if you are planning for a decade plant trees ;if you are planning for a life time , educate people."

As I strongly believe in this philosophy, my goal as a dedicated teacher is to mould a society of educated people who will be capable enough to lead the world to virtue and prosperity.

I am an ardent advocate of CALL (Computer Assisted Language Learning) and through out my carrier I try to implement retrieval learning strategies. Thus I can motivate my students to improve their self confidence and readiness in learning. With the help of cooperative and collaborative learning strategies a teacher can create a 'less stress and high challenge leaning atmosphere'. Thus I wish I can achieve my goal of creating a language proficient and chivalrous student circle in a successful manner.
